Help of Spaniards in Investigation Not Needed.

WILL M'KINLEY END THE WAR?

A Report to That Effect.—The Evening Sun Prints an Ugly Looking Special Cable.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Feb. 19.—The President and Secretary Long after an extended conference this morning decided that the United States would make an investigation into the causes of the Maine disaster, independent of the Spanish authorities. Lee forwarded a request from the Spanish authorities yesterday that that he be allowed to conduct an investigation jointly with the United States.

A REPORT OF INTERVENTION.

It is reported on good authority that the President has decided to end the war in Cuba by interference and a recommendation that the island be purchased by the Cubans or that there will be a declaration of war if the Maine was sunk as a result of a conspiracy. All depends upon the result of the investigation.

THE SUN'S UGLY RUMOR.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

New York, Feb. 19.—The Evening Sun's special Havana cable sent on the Mangrove reef that there are many suspicious facts in connection with the destruction of the Maine. A boat with two men in it rowed near the Maine three days before the accident. Another boat in going across the harbor found itself entangled in a lot of wire which seemed to come from the direction of the Maine. The Havana press ever since the accident has been publishing long stories to prove the accident theory. Havana harbor is filled with mines and everything points to an explosion coming from the outside.

THE CONCERT MONDAY NIGHT.

The Karger Company Endorsed By The Richmond Press.

All the members of the Karger Concert Company, supporting the great violinist, Max Karger, are natives and residents of the south. Miss Jeanette Mac Clanan is from Jackson, Tenn. S. P. Veron from Macon, Ga., and Miss Marie Mildred Marsh hails from the Kentucky blue grass region, although recently occupying a prominent position in the Cincinnati College of Music. We should give them a hearty welcome at the State Normal College on Monday evening next.

The Richmond Times of February 8th says of the company:

"The concert given last night in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. building, justified all the enthusiastic praise which has been bestowed upon the Karger Concert Company in the largest cities of this country and Europe.

Of each of the four participants, conspicuous talent and success in pleasing the continuous encores of a really representative audience spoke eloquently. Enthusiasm reached its height in response to Miss MacClanan's exquisite rendition (to her own accompaniment) of "It's Gwine Back to Dixie." Postmaster Cullingworth, who was present remarked that some of the old boys in gray ought to be present. She also sang in response to an encore, "The Land O' the Leal" showing throughout her perfect mastery of a soprano voice of great beauty, range and fullness. Mr. Karger was loudly and continuously applauded, and Mr. Vernon proved himself the possessor of a bass voice of phenomenal volume. Miss Marie Marsh was a fine accompanist."

Arrangements have been made with the livermen to run hacks from the courthouse to the Normal College by way of the Southern depot stopping at the hotels. Ten cents each way will be charged. Tickets for those who do not hold season tickets, 50 cents.

200 Men Adrift.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 17.—A large area of ice on the coast of Finland suddenly broke off from the shore during a fierce snowstorm yesterday, and was carried out to sea. Upon this ice field were 200 fishermen and several horses. All were borne away by the tide, and none has yet been rescued.

England Gets the Loan.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

London, Feb. 19.—The Saturday Review announces that the Chinese loan will be made to England.

A SUDDEN SUMMONS.

Mr. A. J. Brockmann Died at Eleven O'clock this Morning.

Apparently in his usual health, Mr. A. J. Brockmann was at work up stairs at the Phoenix new building this morning, splicing the elevator rope. He smilingly remarked when he began the work, a few minutes before 11 o'clock, that fifty years ago he could stand and do such work, but now he must sit down and do it.

Mr. Brockmann was a sailor in his young days, and was, we are told, the only man in town who could do a first class job of splicing a rope. Thus it happened that he was occasionally called upon to perform this kind of work.

Seating himself in a chair he commenced his work, when suddenly he exclaimed "Oh!" and fell. He was caught by a young man who was helping him and Dr. Beall hastily summoned. Mr. Brockmann breathed his last just as the doctor arrived. His death was produced by heat stroke.

He was the father of Mr. J. L. Brockmann, of the firm of Thacker & Brockmann, and Prof. C. J. Brockmann, of Brockmann's School of Music. He moved to this country from Germany before the war and first settled in Randolph county, afterwards moving to Guilford county, where he has led a quiet and exemplary Christian life.

He was heard to remark only a few days ago that he was trying to live so as to be ready at any time to lay down this life. His closest friends believe that he succeeded and that when the arrow of the death angel pierced his heart today he was ready and that when the swift severing of the mortal life from the immortal was over, the rest of the journey had no terrors for him.

The funeral will be conducted by Rev. Dr. Weaver at 3:30 tomorrow afternoon from the residence, 410 East Market street. Deceased was about 70 years of age.

In the Fifth Judicial District.

A Judge as well as a Solicitor, will be elected for this (the fifth) judicial district at the election to be held next November. Each district elects its own solicitor, but the judges are elected by the whole State.

Already there is some gossip as to who the candidates may be. It is rumored that Judge Adams will probably be the republican candidate for Congress and that Solicitor W. P. Bynum Jr., will be the republican candidate for judge. The friends of Capt. E. S. Parker desire that he shall be the democratic candidate for judge. It is said that James S. Manning, who was the last democratic nominee, will not accept the nomination again.

There are several candidates mentioned for solicitor. Among them are S. M. Gattis, of Orange; R. B. Boone of Durham; A. L. Brooks, of Person and B. S. Royster of Granville, any one of whom would make a worthy successor of the very efficient Solicitors who have been elected in this district for many years.—Chatham Record.

To Overhaul the Navy.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Feb. 19.—A member of the naval committee of the House said that the disaster to the Maine would result in a careful overhauling of the white squadron to prevent possible defects. It is thought that the house is now in a temper to make a large appropriation for cruisers.

NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News from Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

TELEGRAM BUREAU.
HIGH POINT, N. C., Feb. 19, '98.

The evangelistic meetings conducted at Jarrell's Hall for the past two weeks will close tomorrow. Revs. Hotel and Purdum are eloquent evangelists and the services have been enjoyed. They go to Winston next week.

Miss Mamie Jordan returned last night from an extended trip through the southern states. Her aunt, Mrs. S. C. White, of Anniston, Ala., accompanied her home.

W. B. Steel returned this morning from Washington where he has been looking after the postoffice here.

Miss Eva and Mable Heltman and Miss Williams of the Greensboro Female College passed through this morning en route to their homes in Trinity.

Dr. Halpren, the celebrated optician, left today for Reidsville. The doctor has benefited a great many while here and his visit has been entirely satisfactory.

U. S. Rush left this morning for a few days visit in Winston.

Dr. J. W. Long, of Salisbury, was in the city yesterday en route to Asheville.

Seborne Perry is firing on the Asheville train for a week or ten days.

Rev. Thomas Carrick left for Greensboro this morning.

Rev. J. M. Hilliard arrived in the city this morning and will go up to Abbott's Creek where he will preach tomorrow.

H. B. Laws is spending the day with friends in Asheville.

Lieut. J. S. Donovan and wife, of New York, are stopping at Jarrell's Hotel for a few weeks.

Watham Kine, of Greensboro, who has been spending a few days with W. H. Ragan, left yesterday for his home.

Professors Vestal and Kirkland of Trinity, are spending the day in the city.

F. W. Havel, of Raleigh, is spending the day in the city on business.

Dr. F. C. Frazier, of Trinity, is spending the day in the city.

Jarrell's Hotel was full last night. It was crowded so much that "Uncle Nick" had to give up his bed.

A House Set on Fire by a Poultrie.

Fire insurance companies have all sorts of experiences and their officers can tell many curious stories. One of the queerest fires fell within the business of the Connecticut Fire Insurance Company of this city recently.

A house was set on fire by a bathtub and the tub was set on fire by a poultrie. A man in a western city was suffering from a bad cold and his wife, at the doctor's orders, prepared a poultice for his chest. When she started to put it on it proved to be too hot. Accordingly she took it to the bathroom and set it into the bathtub to cool. This happened to be a fine tub lined with celluloid, which served as a sort of enamel. The heat of the poultice started the celluloid going and the burning tub set things going generally. The department was called out and the house was well wet down, for which the company had to pay. This, so far as is known, is the first instance on record where a bathtub set a house on fire or where a poultice kindled a bathtub.—From the Hartford Courant.

"A Night Off."

Augustin Daly's comedy "A Night Off" will be presented here on Friday evening Feb. 25th, at the Academy of Music and it is safe to say that it will be received with the same hearty welcome with which it has been greeted since it left Daly's Theatre in New York after its phenomenally long run. There is and always will be a great demand for a genuine farce comedy such as "A Night Off" in which it has been demonstrated that horse play and topical gags are not the things that engage and amuse under the much abused name of comedy, and for that reason we are glad to have that opportunity of witnessing a performance of a comedy on the style of Mr. Daly's "A Night Off," the most successful comedy ever written and produced by him, and which will be ably rendered by an excellent company.

Will Turkey Fight?

London, Feb. 17.—A despatch to the Standard from Constantinople says that 12,000 fresh troops have been ordered to reinforce the Ottoman garrisons in Thessaly.

The despatch adds that the Ministry of War is active in all directions.

TORPEDO THEORY GAINS?

MASON'S ATTACK ON THE NAVY

Soldiers Sent to Man the Guns at Sandyhook—Keep Off Government Reservations.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Although Captain Sigbee has not officially reported the result of the examinations thus far made into the condition of the wreck of the Maine enough has been reported to greatly strengthen the widespread belief that the disaster was the work of a torpedo.

Senator Mason's attack on the Navy is the main topic of conversation here today.

MANNING THE GUNS.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

New York, Feb. 19.—Colonel Sinclair said this morning that under instructions from Washington he had sent one hundred men from Fort Wadsworth to Sandy Hook to man the guns there. Orders were issued this morning to keep every one off the government reservations until further notice.

British Army Estimate.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

London, Feb. 19.—The British army estimates just received increase the numerical strength of the army by 22,000 men. The increased cost is £900,000.

Sleight of Hand for the Pastor.

Many years ago when the Hon. Joseph Marsden lived on Hawaii, he attended church on Sunday morning in Hilo. Mr. Marsden was then noted for his skill in legerdemain. When Dr. passed around the contribution bag at a Sunday service Mr. Marsden held up a ten dollar gold piece between his thumb and forefinger so that Dr. could plainly see it. He then placed his hand over the bag, palmed the gold piece and dropped in a silver quarter. Dr. returned to the table with his collection. After the service he emptied the bag on a table, but could not find the ten dollar gold piece. He shook the bag repeatedly, turned over the small pile of contributions, got down on the floor and looked under the table, walked down the aisle, looking closely at the cracks in the floor, felt in his own pockets, fearing that he made some mistake, and then went home wondering at the strange loss of the gold piece.

Some time afterwards the deceiver quietly sent the gold piece to the church.—From the Pacific Commercial Advertiser.

The Finger Portrait.

That full length portrait of the late Maj. S. M. Finger, by Randall, now exposed in Watson's show window, is one of the best pieces of work that distinguished artist has produced, and this is saying much, for all his work is good. This portrait is for the State Normal and Industrial College at Greensboro, a most fitting depository. Maj. Finger was most assiduous in his efforts in behalf of the establishment of this school, and continued a trustee of the institution to the day of his death, laboring at all times to make it what it is and will be. And Mr. Randall, in transferring the features of the Major to the canvass seems to have caught the inspiration of the occasion, for the very expression seems to be one of perfect contentment over the work he had helped to create. We congratulate all concerned.—Raleigh Post.

The Mangrove Arrives.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Key West, Fla. February, 19th.—The light house tender Mangrove arrived this morning from Havana bringing five of the wounded from the Maine. Five out of the twenty-five of the wounded in the Havana hospital have died and eleven are seriously wounded.

The Vizcaya at Anchor.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

New York, Feb. 16.—A naval escort has been waiting all the morning for the Spanish cruiser Vizcaya to come down the bay but owing to the heavy fog she had not lifted anchor at eleven o'clock.

ROYALLY TREATED.

The Dramatic Club Returns from Danville.

The Greensboro Dramatic Club returned from Danville this morning enthusiastic over the true Virginia welcome accorded them in that city.

They were met at the depot by a delegation and escorted to the hotel, on their arrival, in a car especially decorated for the occasion.

On Thursday night they were greeted by a packed house and the play way warmly received.

On last night another good house welcomed them. After the play a most delightful german was given in honor of the young ladies of the company at Masonic hall.

Financially and otherwise the trip was a decided success.

Members of the company say that the Danville people are the "salt of the earth."

An Object Lesson.

We have three enterprises in Thom-asville that afford our people throughout the State a good object lesson. They are a furniture, chair and spoke and handle factory. They are all making money, having no trouble in finding ready sale for their products. The stockholders are delighted with their investments. They have no difficulty in obtaining timber. Most of it is hauled to the factories by farmers living near by.—Charity and Children.

Zola Trial Nearly Completed.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Paris, Feb. 10.—Testimony in the Zola trial was completed today. A decision will soon be reached.

More Accurate Service in Greensboro Than Baltimore

Mr. C. M. Vanstorty had his little girl's eyes examined in Baltimore last year and went with the prescription to one of the largest and best known optical houses there to have the glasses made up. FORTUNATELY one of the lenses got broken recently and was carried to the Greensboro Eye Specialist to be replaced. He saw at a glance that neither the glasses nor the prescription, and so changed them both. Mr. Vanstorty sent the old lenses with an explanation to the oculist who had given the prescription and in reply received the following:

THE LINE OF DEMARCATION.

Democracy demands, cardinal, only what has been successfully tried in the history of this country. Populism demands the trial of wild vagaries never tried in the history of any country and which, in the opinion of nearly all intelligent men, are impracticable and highly dangerous.

Practical test in the past is the touchstone of measures of state.

In the whole populist party in the United States there cannot be found a thousand of those intelligent, practical, at once liberal and conservative, men upon whom depends the stability of a republican government; men whose success in life shows a trustworthy grasp of conditions.

Democracy is at present the only rational policy of state. Republicanism is as rabid in its conservatism as populism is uncalculating in its empiricism.

Republicanism declares any change must be hurtful. Populism believes any change will be beneficial. Democracy alone recognizes that a change may be hurtful or helpful, and stops to weigh the probabilities on either hand.

The demands of democracy are the demands of the intelligent, practical, at once liberal and conservative, men who believe present conditions may be bettered.

Hitherto the demands of democracy have been met for the most part by senseless epithets and silly misrepresentation. When they have been met and refuted in reason all danger of their success will pass away. Democracy is rational.

We find the following saw-toothed sarcasm in the Caucasian:

"We are compelled to appreciate the effort of the Greensboro Telegram to be 'smart.' Doubtless his papa told him when he was a little boy he must be smart, and it is gratifying to see the heroic attempt at filial obedience. The effort is praiseworthy, and if he keeps trying, with the capacity he manifests now, he may be successful in twenty years.

"If at first you don't succeed Try, try again."

"Time will bring you your reward, Try, try again."

But we ain't saying what kind of a reward."

We are pleased to find that in addition to being a profound statesman and a keen critic of poetry the Honorable Hallelujah is a master of polished satire.

Let it not be forgotten that if northern cotton mills can come south and do well, mills erected here by southern capital can do well. If southern mills can run northern mills out of business let them do so. That is the way the business world goes these days. The north has not manifested any industrial tenderness for the south; we need not weep any tears over the commercial condition of the north. The suggestion made in a letter to this paper some time ago should be kept before our people. More enterprises that employ skilled labor—that is what we need most. Is there not enough surplus capital already in Greensboro to erect and equip another cotton factory and is there not enough managerial ability here to make it a success?

The attempt to regulate hotel and restaurant charges in Kentucky is another example of law making run mad. There are certain instances in which the public must be protected from overcharges for the very simple reason that the one making the charge has a practical monopoly. If a man wishes to go from one town to another he must go by the railroad connecting them and the road may, in the absence of any law to the contrary, charge him what it pleases. Just anybody can not build a railroad on short notice to compete. It would take just twenty-four hours to start a hotel. Competition will take care of all exorbitant charges in that line.

The action of the Spaniards in objecting to American divers examining the hull of the Maine is not likely to increase the number of adherents to the accident theory.

Mr. Mason of Illinois seems bent on doing his poor best to cast a shadow upon the laurels of the Honorable Ben Tillman.

Mr. Hancock might now be added to the staff of the Hayseed with propriety since J. Wiley is to be reinstated.

SATURDAY'S LITERARY CHAT.

[All books and magazines mentioned below may be had at Wharton's book store.]

Dean Stubbs is writing a monograph on Charles Kingsley for the new Victorian Era series.

H. M. Stanley is preparing a work on his recent journey to Bulawayo and Johannesburg, to appear as "Through South Africa."

Rudyard Kipling has written a Christmas story, to be published as "The Burning of the Sarah Sands."

John Morley is writing for the Twelve English Statesmen series a monograph on Lord Chatham.

D. C. Boulger's "History of China" and Count Gleichen's "With the British Mission to Menelik" are in press.

Lewis Sergeant has written the "Story of the Franks."

"In Bacchylides and His Country," a paper in the March Atlantic, Professor J. Irving Manatt describes sympathetically and picturesquely the present appearance of the Isle of Keos and reviews its early condition and history.

Frank Mathew, the Irish novelist, is engaged on a new novel, to be called "A Lady's Sword." Mr. Mathew is a grand nephew of the famous "Apostle of Temperance." He is an Irishman who has not feared to speak of '98, for his "The Word of the Brabmers" is a story of the Irish rebellion of a century ago.

Miss M. E. Braddon's new novel is entitled "Rough Justice."

Michael Davitt, M. P., has written a book concerning "Life and progress in Australasia."

Miss Mary Angela Dickens, a grand daughter of Charles Dickens, has written a new novel, entitled "Against the Tide."

Wm. Waldorf Astor will contribute an important paper to an early number of the Pall Mall Magazine on John Jacob Astor.

Rudyard Kipling's third just-so story tells "how the rhinoceros got his wrinkly skin."

For the Jewish World I. Zangwill has written a new serial, the title of which is "Maimon the Fool and Nathan the Wise." It is one of the Ghetto Series, the scene being laid in Germany.

The author of "Life of the Prince of Wales," just published, is Miss Marie Belloc, a well known journalist, whose mother, Madame Belloc, not long since wrote an interesting volume of reminiscences.

A posthumous volume by the late Bishop Phillips Brooks will be issued shortly under the title of "The Best Methods of Promoting Spiritual Life."

"It is pleasant to record that Mr.

Clemens seems to be making good progress in his undertaking to pay in full the debts of his bankrupt publishing house of C. L. Webster & Co., with which he was connected," says Literature. "The assets of that firm realized 28 per cent. of its liabilities. Nearly all the creditors offered release of their face value. Payment to that extent Mr. Clemens made last year. He has since paid 25 per cent. more, or 75 per cent. in all, so that his release from all obligations seems to be almost in sight."

Mrs. L. T. Meade's "A Princess of the Gutter" is to be followed next autumn by another novel on similar lines dealing with Christian Socialism. Mrs. Meade has, in conjunction with Mr. Robert Eustace, begun a series of stories called "The Brotherhood of the Seven Kings," dealing with a secret society which has a woman at its head, and making use in the interests of the plot of many new scientific developments. She has also begun a novel called "On the Brink of the Chasm."

Professor Benjamin Ide Wheeler, of Cornell, lately connected with the American School at Athens, will contribute to the Century an illustrated series of brief papers on the myth, tradition and archaeology of the Seven Wonders of the Ancient World, as follows: The Pyramids, the Hanging Gardens of Babylon, the Statue of Zeus at Olympia, the Temple of Diana at Ephesus, the Mausoleum, the Colossus of Rhodes and the Pharos at Alexandria.

The recent application of a well known historian to see the unpublished letters of Marie Antoinette in the Austrian Archives has been refused on the grounds of expediency, as they are of an extremely confidential nature, and, in some cases, contain state secrets. About 220 of her letters have already been given to the public, but the most important part of her correspondence lies at Vienna unpublished. It is stated that there are unmistakable signs of these letters having been tampered with.

Are You Always Tired?

WINDSOR, N. C., May 24, '97.

Five years ago I was completely run down from general debility. My liver didn't act, I had indigestion, was just as nervous as I could be, and was always tired. The least exertion would bring on shortness of breath and it was a drag to me to keep up. A friend of mine who had been cured by using Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy told me to take it. I bought a dozen bottles and took it just because I knew I would have to try something. I suffered greatly from wakefulness, would lay awake often the greater part of the night, unable to rest or sleep. When I was on the second bottle I got so I could sleep, and when I had finished the six bottles I WAS WELL. Indigestion cured, that shortness of breath cured, and I feel like another person. Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy is a wonderful medicine. It did me more good than anything I ever took in my life.

Red Letter Sale

Dress Goods and Silks

at BROWN'S

(Cox-Ferree Dry Goods Co.'s old stand.)

February 16 to March 1.

Cox-Ferree Dry Goods Co. had the largest stock of dress goods in the city. To this has been added the stock carried by Sample Brown Mercantile Co. The combined stocks is entirely too large for any one store to carry. In order to materially reduce this stock, we will begin on Wednesday, Feb. 16th, and continue till March 1st, what we will term our

Red Letter Sale.

All Woolen Dress Goods and Silks will be marked in plain large Red Figures and the price will be so much lower than their real value that you will see at once that you cannot afford to leave without buying. This will be the biggest slaughter of prices ever attempted in this city.

Sample Brown Mercantile Company.

Nothing is so Important in the Food Line, as Good Flour.

Our Leading and Most Popular Brands are:

"Best Patent xxx"

(The Flour of the "Upper Crust")

'Silver Star'

(Strictly High Grade and Always Good)

The above Flours are sold and fully guaranteed by all the leading grocers of Greensboro.

Remember that the price is right, as these goods are made here in Guilford County, out of Guilford County Wheat, and by Guilford County people. No pains are spared to make our Flours up to the standard in every respect. Our mill is equipped with all the modern machinery known to Flour Manufacturing. A test of these facts will convince you.
